

Commercial Connectivity Solutions

Provided by Quest Diagnostics

As the world's leading provider of diagnostic testing, information and services, Quest Diagnostics provides a quality interface to a majority of commercial electronic health record (EHR) solutions. Over 200,000 physicians use our suite of connectivity solutions to order lab tests, receive timely test results, share clinical information quickly and securely, and prescribe drugs.

Immediately below are the EHR Quality Solutions certified by our Health IT Quality Solutions™ Program-- technologies exceeding our standards for lab data quality and streamlined interoperability. The list continues with a complete set of interfaces to all EHR solutions we offer. Contact your Quest Diagnostics salesperson to begin the interface implementation process, or to submit your interface request online visit:
