

Health screenings with a PCP

Physician Results Forms as an alternate screening method

Using Physician Results Forms in a workplace wellness screening program allows participants to leverage bloodwork ordered by their primary care physicians (PCPs) to complete their screenings. With Physician Results Forms, an employer can capitalize on PCP encounters to avoid redundancy in healthcare costs, and a participant still receives a results report from Quest Diagnostics to outline key health risks and next steps.

Increase screening access

The Physician Results Form screening option is beneficial for:

- Employees who cannot attend an onsite event
- Individuals who live more than 25 miles from a Patient Service Center
- Participants who see a PCP on a yearly basis
- Spouses, domestic partners
- Individuals without access to other screening methods

How participants use Physician Results Forms

Participant
downloads form

Healthcare provider completes the form with most recent lab values

Participant uploads the completed and signed form

Email PopulationHealth@QuestDiagnostics.com, or contact your Account Executive for more information.